

* Some people think health care should be free for everyone. Others think that people should pay for their medical costs themselves. Discuss both sides and give your opinion.

→ Some people assert that medical facilities ought to be free for every citizen. While, others believe that people should pay their medical expenses by own. Although, authority should avail monetary support to other sectors such as education and infrastructure and people should pay their health care fees themselves, I strongly assert that health care is a basic need of every citizen and should be funded by government.

Some people believe that government ought to avail budgetary support in other sectors such as education, infrastructure etc. because these sectors are helpful for the welfare of the nation and dwellers should pay for cure of their illness from their earnings. Education is a base of every country and through the education people become more innovative and make strong nation. For instance, German government provide free education in entire corner of the nation for that they cut off budget from other sectors. However, authorities should more focus on health care facilities because rising fees of medical treatment make everyone can not afford it.

On the contrary, authority should avail medical facility at free of cost because it is primary need of every civilian and they should avail this in the form of rewards taxes. Every citizens pay various taxes to the authority from their hard earnings so, it is government responsibility to fulfill their civilians basic needs in the form of return gift and also nowadays increased fees of treatments. Thus, every family can not afford it. For example, a survey was conducted by The Times of India in 2017, 20% of death occurred in Asian countries owing to unaffordable medical treatment which economy class could not afford it.

To wrap up, Albeit, authority should avail money in other sectors, I deem that it is primary responsibility of government to provide free health care facility in every corner of the nation. Thus, civilians can live healthy life.
